Land has been increased in all property classes.

Residential neighborhoods with no sales were compared to like areas for trending factor.

Small neighborhoods with similar characteristics have been combine into larger neighborhoods.

The Industrial and Commercial have been combine and treated the same when adjusting land rates and establishing trend factors.

Income and expense information gathered during appeals has been anaylized along with sales to estabish neighborhood factors for commercial and industrial.